Join us as we celebrate our history! All museums will be open and waiting to greet you. What is the history behind food in Beaver County? How was it grown, transported and prepared? Why do we eat the things that we eat? How have the foods of different ethnic groups and eras evolved? Our food has been influenced by the Native Americans who once roamed this land as well as the settlers who later farmed here. It was further shaped by the many nationalities who arrived to work in our steel mills, as well as the individual entrepreneurs who established our hotels and restaurants. In addition, wartime food and its preparation varied greatly from home to the battlefield. As our county population grew over the years and more leisure time became available, food played an increasingly important role in community, church and school activities. If you would like to find out more about the evolution of our tastes in food, please plan to visit any or all of our 17 Beaver County historical sites. The U.S. Majors Tour is the pinnacle of championship racing in North America. This isn't Easy Street. This is where America's best amateur drivers race. It means start-to-finish, wheel-to-wheel action. It's where drivers not only put their cars on the track; they put their pride on the line. Make no mistake; this is not country club driving. The kindred spirit found here is mixed with fuel and emotion. Adrenaline pumps a little harder here. Take a close look. It's not for everyone. If you long for the flag that welcomes or denies you, we have a spot for you. Welcome to the Majors.

A resident of Sewickley, Sarah is compelled and intrigued by the interplay between simplicity and complexity, perfection and distortion. Her most recent work brings the floral bouquet to the front where she investigates these contrasting qualities in vibrant and stark relief. She works in watercolor, gouache, ink, and often a combination of all three. The Exhibition runs through June 2, 2019.
